Our residential activity programmes can be adapted to meet the size, needs and age of your group as well as taking into account the time of year, weather conditions etc. If there are particular activities that you would like to be included in your programme or that you wish to avoid then please let us know. We will share the suggested programme with you before your visit and you can make changes right up to the day of your arrival. We normally operate a 'carousel' of activities so that each group gets to do every activity but not necessarily at the same time. Where possible we ensure that programmes are progressive and incremental in their level of challenge in order to maximise learning and development opportunities. Each activity group usually consists of 1 instructor, up to 10 participants and a supporting teacher or responsible adult.
